

The Divan Poets Whose Works Have Been Composed in the 17th Century

Authors : Mehmet Nuri Parmaksız

Abstract : Ottoman poetry and Ottoman music have been inseparable art branches for centuries. The best examples of music and poems created in the same periods have been the most prominent proof of this. These periods without doubt have been 17th and 18th centuries. Since the poems written in these periods were better than those in the other periods, composers composed many of the poems of these periods and still keep composing. Music composers did not discriminate the poets of the poems they would compose, and composed the poems coherent with the meaning and form.

Keywords : music, 17th ottoman divan poetry, ottoman poets, poems

Conference Title : ICSS 2014 : International Conference on Social Sciences

Conference Location : Penang, Malaysia

Conference Dates : December 04-05, 2014