

Students' Satisfaction towards Science Project Subjects Based on Education Quality Assurance

Authors : Satien Janpla, Radasa Pojard

Abstract : The objective of this study is to study bachelor's degree students' satisfaction towards the course of Science Project based on education quality assurance. It is a case study of the Faculty of Science and Technology, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University. The findings can be used as a guideline for analysis and revision of the content and the teaching/learning process of the subject. Moreover, other interesting factors such as teaching method can be developed based on education quality assurance. Population in this study included 267 students in year 3 and year 4 of the Faculty of Science and Technology, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University who registered in the subject of Science Project in semester 1/2556. The research tool was a questionnaire and the research statistics included arithmetic mean and SD. The results showed that the study of bachelor degree students' satisfaction towards the subject of Science Project based on education quality assurance reported high satisfaction with the average of 3.51. Students from different departments showed no difference in their satisfaction.

Keywords : satisfaction, science project subject, education quality assurance, students

Conference Title : ICEEE 2014 : International Conference on Education and Educational Engineering

Conference Location : Paris, France

Conference Dates : July 21-22, 2014