

Sustainable Development as a Part of Development and Foreign Trade in Turkey

Authors : Sadife Güngör, Sevilay Konya

Abstract : Sustainable development is an economic development scope which covers the economic growth included environmental factors. With the help of economic development, the needs of the future generations are going to be met the needs. As it is aimed the environmental conscious, sustainable development focuses on decreasing the damage of natural sources. From this point of view, while sustainable development is environmentally conscious, it also improving the life standards of individuals. The relationship between development and foreign trade on sustainable development is theoretically searched in this study. In the second part, sustainable development at world and EU is searched and in the last part, the sustainability of trade and development in Turkey is stated.

Keywords : development, sustainable development, foreign trade, Turkey

Conference Title : ICBEMS 2014 : International Conference on Business, Economics and Management Sciences

Conference Location : Paris, France

Conference Dates : December 30-31, 2014