

Human Rights Laws with Reference to Right to Life and Liberty

Authors : Ravinder Kumar Anand

Abstract : Human rights are rights inherent to all human beings, regardless of race, sex, nationality, ethnicity, language, religion, or any other status. Human rights include the right to life and liberty, freedom from slavery and torture, freedom of opinion and expression, the right to work and education, and many more. Everyone is entitled to these rights, without discrimination. The Human Rights are protected by a set of principles that guarantee all people equal rights, regardless of their status. Human Rights are internationally protected. There are different set of Rules prescribed internationally as well as Indian. The very important Human Rights Protected by every country is to Life and Liberty. Every person has the right to life, liberty and security.

Keywords : human rights, human rights laws, right to life, right to liberty

Conference Title : ICLPS 2025 : International Conference on Law and Political Science

Conference Location : Singapore, Singapore

Conference Dates : March 24-25, 2025