

Challenges and Opportunities Presented by Linguistic Diversity in Nursing Education Settings: An Integrative Literature Review

Authors : Ditebogo Morapedi Collen Mabulana, Kholofelo L. Matlhaba

Abstract : Introduction and background: Cultural and linguistic diversity in nursing education settings has become increasingly prevalent due to globalization and the growing multicultural populations in many countries. Purpose: The purpose is to examine and synthesize existing research on the challenges and opportunities presented by cultural and linguistic diversity in nursing education settings with the intention of providing a comprehensive understanding of the implications for nursing education. Methods: The review encompasses a comprehensive analysis of relevant literature from various databases. Findings: Language barriers, communication challenges and cultural differences between nursing students and facilitators are identified as challenges of cultural and linguistic diversity in nursing education settings. Conclusions: In order to provide patients with high-quality care and to shape nursing practice in the future in a multicultural and interconnected world, it is imperative that nursing education support cultural and linguistic diversity. Contributions: Nursing education settings are becoming increasingly diverse, with students and facilitators coming from a variety of cultural and linguistic backgrounds. While this diversity presents numerous opportunities for learning and growth.

Keywords : challenges, linguistic diversity, integrative literature review, nursing education, opportunities

Conference Title : ICLLL 2025 : International Conference on Languages, Literature and Linguistics

Conference Location : Paris, France

Conference Dates : September 20-21, 2025