

The Use of Online Courses as a Tool for Teaching in Education for Youth and Adults

Authors : Elineuda Do Socorro Santos Picanço Sousa, Ana Kerlly Souza da Costa

Abstract : This paper presents the analysis of the information society as a plural, inclusive and participatory society, where it is necessary to give all citizens, especially young people, the right skills in order to develop skills so that they can understand and use information through of contemporary technologies; well as carry out a critical analysis, using and producing information and all sorts of messages and / or informational language codes. This conviction inspired this article, whose aim is to present current trends in the use of technology in distance education applied as an alternative and / or supplement to classroom teaching for Youth and Adults, concepts and actions, seeking to contribute to its development in the state of Amapá and specifically, the Center for Professional of Amapá Teaching Professor Josinete Oliveira Barroso - CEPAJOB.

Keywords : youth and adults education, Ead. Professional Education, online courses, CEPAJOB

Conference Title : ICEL 2015 : International Conference on e-Learning

Conference Location : Zurich, Switzerland

Conference Dates : January 13-14, 2015