

The Impact of FDI on Economic Growth in Algeria

Authors : Mohammed Yagoub

Abstract : The new orientation to the market economy sponsored by the Algeria government in the early Nineties of the last century, and its desire to develop investment mechanisms and the promotion of development recently, the access into a partnership with the European Union, and the forthcoming accession to the World Trade Organization, foreign direct investment makes one of the most important means of opening up to foreign markets and bring technology and interact with globalization, this article we will discuss the impact of FDI on economic growth in the Algerian.

Keywords : economic, development, markets, FDI, displacement, globalization

Conference Title : ICBFEM 2015 : International Conference on Business, Finance, Economics and Management

Conference Location : Paris, France

Conference Dates : May 18-19, 2015