

The Effort of Good Governance in Enhancing Foods Security for Sustainable National Development

Authors : Egboja Simon Oga

Abstract : One of the most important keys to the success of a nation is to ensure steady development and national economic self-sufficiency and independence. It is therefore in this regard that this paper is designed to identify food security to be crucial to all nations' effort toward sustainable national development. Nigeria as a case study employed various effort by the successive government towards food security. Emphasis were placed on the extent to which government has boosted food security situation on the basis of the identified limitations, conclusion was drawn, recommendation/suggestions proffered, that subsidization of the process of farm inputs like fertilizer, improved seeds and agrochemical, education of farmers on modern methods of farming through extension services, improvisation of village-based food storage mechanism and provision of infrastructural facilities in rural areas to facilitate the preservation and easy evacuation of farm produces are necessary.

Keywords : food,governance,development,security

Conference Title : ICFHCS 2015 : International Conference on Food, Hunger, Conflict and Society

Conference Location : Dubai, United Arab Emirates

Conference Dates : September 13-15, 2015