

Responsibility to Protect in Practice: Libya and Syria

Authors : Guram Esakia, Giorgi Gogvadze

Abstract : The following paper is written due to overview the concept of R2P, this new dimension in International Relations field. Paper contains the general description of previously mentioned concept, its advantages and disadvantages. We also compare each other R2P and "humanitarian intervention", trying to make clear division between these two approaches in conflict solution. There is also discussed R2P in real action, successful one in Libya and yet failed in Syria. Essay doesn't claim to be the part of scientific chain and is based only on personal subjection as well on information gathered from various scholars and UN resolutions.

Keywords : the concept of R2P, humanitarian intervention, Libya, Syria

Conference Title : ICPSIR 2015 : International Conference on Political Science and International Relations

Conference Location : Prague, Czechia

Conference Dates : July 09-10, 2015