Authors : Shirin Ghasemi

Abstract : The structure of Asadi's poem in Garshasb-Nameh coordinates with the structure of human psyche based on Jung's perspective. The poetic stories of Asadi in Garshasb-Nameh is contrasted to human psyche according to Jung's view in psychology which indicated the similarity of poetic structure of stories of Garshasb-Nameh to analytical psychology of Jung. In fact, by studying the stories of this collection the reader travels with him and finds it consistent with the human psyche. To demonstrate this, the story of Jamshid marriage with Kuhrang's daughter and the story of Garshasb marriage with King's daughter are selected. These two stories illustrate the poetic structure and the human psyche based on Jung's analytical psychology perspective.
