

Constructing a Co-Working Innovation Model for Multiple Art Integration: A Case Study of Children's Musical

Authors : Nai-Chia Chao, Meng-Chi Shih

Abstract : Under today's fast technology and massive data era, the working method start to change. In this study, based under literature meaning of "Co-working" we had implemented the new "Co-working innovation model". Research concluded that co-working innovation model shall not be limited in co-working space but use under different field when applying multiple art integration stragies. Research show co-working should not be limited in special field or group, should be use or adapt whenever different though or ideas where found, it should be use under different field and plans.

Keywords : arts integration, co-working, children's musical

Conference Title : ICCVAD 2016 : International Conference on Communication, Visual Arts and Design

Conference Location : Rome, Italy

Conference Dates : March 21-22, 2016