

The Reasons behind Individuals to Join Terrorist Organizations: Recruitment from Outside

Authors : Murat Sözen

Abstract : Today terrorism is gaining momentum again. Parallel to this, it hurts more than before because it has victims from not only its own locations but also remote places. As victims are from outside, militants are likewise from own location and outside. What made these individuals join the terrorist organizations and how these organizations recruit militants are still unanswered. The purpose of this work is to find reasons of joining and power of recruiting. In addition, the role of most popular tool of recruiting, 'social media' will be examined.
