

Handwriting Recognition of Gurmukhi Script: A Survey of Online and Offline Techniques

Authors : Ravneet Kaur

Abstract : Character recognition is a very interesting area of pattern recognition. From past few decades, an intensive research on character recognition for Roman, Chinese, and Japanese and Indian scripts have been reported. In this paper, a review of Handwritten Character Recognition work on Indian Script Gurmukhi is being highlighted. Most of the published papers were summarized, various methodologies were analysed and their results are reported.
