

A Framework for Internet Education: Personalised Approach

Authors : Zoe Wong

Abstract : The purpose of this paper is to develop a framework for internet education. This framework uses the personalized learning approach for everyone who can freely develop their qualifications & careers. The key components of the framework includes students, teachers, assessments and infrastructure. It allows remove the challenges and limitations of the current educational system and allows learners' to cope with progressing learning materials.

Keywords : internet education, personalized approach, information technology, framework

Conference Title : ICES 2016 : International Conference on Education Systems

Conference Location : Miami, United States

Conference Dates : March 24-25, 2016