

The Education Quality Management by the Participation of the Community in Northern Part of Thailand

Authors : Preecha Pongpeng

Abstract : This research aims to study the education quality management to solve the problem of teachers shortage by the communities participation. This research is action research by using the tools is questionnaire to collect the data whit, students and community representatives and final will interview to ask the opinions of people in the community to help and support instruction in problems in teaching. Results found that people in the community are aware and working together to solve the lack the of teachers by collaboration between school personnel and community members by finding people who are knowledgeable, organized into local wisdom in the community, compound money to donate and hire someone in the community to teaching between classroom with people in the community. In addition, researcher discovered this research project contributes to cooperation between the school and community and there was a problem including administrative expenses and the school's academic quality management.

Keywords : education quality management, local wisdom, northern part of Thailand, participation of the community

Conference Title : ICEABM 2016 : International Conference on Economics, Accounting and Business Management

Conference Location : Amsterdam, Netherlands

Conference Dates : December 01-02, 2016