

An Explorative Research on the Electric and Electronic Officers Employment: Turkish Flagged Ship's Perspective

Authors : Mehmet Yahsi, Ozkan Ugurlu, Ercan Yukseyildiz

Abstract : Assistant department among the electric and electronic officers on ships, has an important place for the maintenance of electric and electronic devices. From this perspective, ships must be employed with a sufficient number of assistant department. In this study, in order to research on the Turkish-flagged ships electric and electronic officers employment; Our national manning regulation compared with international regulations. The data used in this study were collected via visiting of the ships. 3000 gross tonnage and above engaged in international voyages 181 Turkish-flagged ship's crew lists were compared with Minimum Safety Manning Certificates. According to the findings; employment rate, %54 electric and electronic officers. According to the results of the study; Turkish-flagged ships, although it is not obliged to electric and electronic officers, were employed on ships.

Keywords : manning, electric officer, electronic officer, minimum safety manning certificate

Conference Title : ICOME 2017 : International Conference on Ocean and Marine Engineering

Conference Location : Prague, Czechia

Conference Dates : July 09-10, 2017