

Democrat Support to Antiterrorism of USA from Hollywood: Homeland Series

Authors : Selman Selim Akyüz, Mete Kazaz

Abstract : Since The First Gulf War, USA, "Leader of The Free World" has been in trouble with terror. The USA created a complexity in The Middle East and paid the price with terrorist attacks in homeland. USA has made serious mistakes in terms of antiterrorism and fight against its supporters. Democrats have repaired damages caused by the Republican Party's management. Old methods about antiterrorism have been slowly abandoned. Hollywood, too, has played an important part in this war. Sometimes, Hollywood became an unquestioned patriot, sometimes it cried for the death of American Soldiers far away. In this study, messages in The Homeland, broadcast in the USA and a lot of countries around the world, are analyzed in terms of Washington's foreign policy and position of the CIA in the fight against antiterrorism. The series reflect an orientalist viewpoint and has been criticized for offensive policy against the government. Homeland wanted to offer a perspective for the USA to be the "Leader of The Free World" again but with a liberal-democrat approach, dialogue and rational intelligence methods.
