

Consequences of Inadequate Funding in Nigerian Educational System

Authors : Sylvia Nkiru Ogbuoji

Abstract : This paper discussed the consequences of inadequate funding in Nigerian education system. It briefly explained the meaning of education in relation to the context and identified various ways education in Nigeria can be funded. It highlighted some of the consequences of inadequate funding education system to include: Inadequate facilitates for teaching and learning, western brain drain, unemployment, crises of poverty, low staff morale it. Finally, some recommendations were put forward, the government should improve the annual budget allocation to education, in order to achieve educational objective, also government should monitor the utilization of allocated funds to minimize embezzlement.

Keywords : consequences, corruption, education, funding

Conference Title : ICCTL 2018 : International Conference on College Teaching and Learning

Conference Location : Miami, United States

Conference Dates : March 12-13, 2018