

Investigation of Various Variabilities of Attitudes toward Teaching as a Profession Levels of Physical Education and Sports School Students

Authors : Turan Cetinkaya, Abdurrahman Kirtepe

Abstract : The aim of this study is to determine the relation of the level attitudes toward teaching as a profession to various variables of the students in physical education and sports departments. 277 students who are studying at the departments of physical education and sports teaching, sports management and coaching in Ahi Evran University, College of Physical Education and Sports participated to the research. Personal information tool and teaching profession scale consisting 34 items were used as data collection tool in the research. Distribution, frequency, t test and anova test were used in comparison of the related data. As a result of statistical analysis, attitudes toward teaching as a profession levels do not differ according to gender, but significant differences were detected in the exercise regularly and department.

Keywords : teaching profession, attitude, physical education and sports students, university students

Conference Title : ICHMSBE 2017 : International Conference on Human Movement Science and Biomedical Engineering

Conference Location : Barcelona, Spain

Conference Dates : December 14-15, 2017